

Oct 17, 2024

India Chemicals

Global chemical market faultlines widen on China-led deflation and supply chain risks. The opportunity just got bigger for India. Who will make the cut?

Ankur Periwal | Harsh Shah

Several Indian chemical companies have a foot in the door of the global chemicals market. Those focused on higher volumes and innovation are well placed to capitalize on resurgent demand.

More inside

- Strategic choices made by China and India
- Impact analysis of China's ballooning chemical production
- The diversification compulsion & India's positioning
- Indian companies to watch

For the full report, please reach out to our research desk

